The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between

The People of the United Kingdom
His Majesty's Government

– and –

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown

And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families. They deserve our respect and support, and fair treatment.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most, such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces. Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles of The Armed Forces Covenant

1.1 We, DIRICKX Systems, will endeavour to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant:

- Members of the Armed Forces Community should not face disadvantages arising from their service in the provision of public and commercial services.
- In some circumstances special provision may be justified, especially for those who have given the most, such as the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 We recognise the contribution that Service personnel, reservists, veterans, the cadet movement and military families make to our organisation, our community and to the country. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant by:

- Promoting and supporting the Armed Forces: as a supplier to the Ministry of Defence, DIRICKX Systems are proud to not only promote, but support our Armed Forces in their day-to-day operations. Providing them with the very best products, services, and technical advice, that allow them to carry out their duties as required.
- Employment support to members of the Armed Forces Community: DIRICKX Systems count veterans of the British Army as members of their management team and would be proud to support the employment of further veterans, recognising military skills and qualifications in our recruitment and selection process; to support the employment of Service leavers.
- Commercial: DIRICKX Systems strive to develop ever evolving defence products, in order to supply our Armed Forces with the latest technology, to maintain their safety in the most hostile environments.
- National Events: DIRICKX Systems commits to supporting Armed Forces Day, Reserves Day, the Poppy Appeal Day, and Remembrance activities.

2.2 We will publicise these commitments on our website, setting out how we will seek to honour them and inviting feedback from the Armed Forces Community and our customers on how we are doing.
